MEDICINAL.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.

A mother's love is so divine that the roughest man cannot help but appreciate it as the crown of womanhood. However, Motherhood is looked forward to with feelings of great dread by almost all women. At such times a woman is nervous, dyspeptic, irritable, and she is in need of a uterine tonic and nerve.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapse, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States, with most of whom they have done business for over a third of a century.

How to live in health and happiness, is the general theme of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work on medicine and hygiene, containing over 1000 pages and more than 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers.

TIGER HILL THE KEY.

Advises received at Seoul, Korea, state that the Japanese lines now extend 30 miles along the Yalu river, reaching from Yungampo to 10 miles above Wiju. The Russians are strongest at Antung. Tiger Hill is, as it was in the China-Japanese war, the key to the situation. Three islands, one above and two below Wiju, will facilitate an attack, as they offer a base for a battery to cover the crossing of the Yalu. It is reported that the Japanese are landing troops and constructing buildings at Hungchuan, below Yungampo.

A dispatch from Nanchang says that the Japanese are preparing to resist a Japanese advance by the further construction of intrenchments and other fortifications on the Manchurian side of the river especially opposite the points where the Japanese have concealed their forces within the last few days, and all reports of a decisive engagement on the Yalu are premature.

Apparently reliable information in the possession of the general staff leads to the belief that the objective of the Japanese campaign does not involve the ambitious invasion of the interior of Manchuria with the purpose of reaching and overwhelming the main Russian army. If the Japanese ever entertained the hope of accomplishing a task similar to that which Napoleon set himself, present advice indicate that they have abandoned it, and have adopted a much more cautious and less hazardous programme.

If this information is correct, there will be no advance upon the army concentrated at Liao Yang and Mukden, with its attendant constant lengthening and weakening of the Japanese line of communications. Instead there seems to be a determination to stick as close as possible to the sea, where lies Japan's natural base of communication, she having established herself in Korea.

The general staff reports say that the Japanese still have three other objectives—the occupation of a line across the Liaoting peninsula, for the purpose of cutting off Port Arthur; the isolation of Vladivostok and establishment of a junction between the army of Korea and the force at the head of the Liaoting peninsula. The last mentioned movement might be accomplished by a landing near the mouth of Yangtze river, which, by threatening the flank of the Russian position at Feng Huan Cheng, might render it untenable, and make the advance of a column from Korea comparatively easy.

If these plans should succeed the life of both Russian squadrons in the Pacific would be menaced, and, with the sea and a fleet back of her at every point, Japan could fortify the positions thus gained and, with the tables turned, compel General Kuropatkin to come forward and attack.

General Kuropatkin, however, is in possession of the latest advice received by the general staff, and it is safe to assume that if the Japanese campaign develops along the lines indicated he will be ready to make such disposition of his forces as will meet and checkmate it.

Struggle with Maniac.

Captain Clark, of the New York fire department, and two firemen engaged in a desperate struggle with a maniac before daylight yesterday on a 12-inch ledge which forms the base of the mansard roof of the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, in New York. The ledge is 80 feet above the ground, and the man risked their lives to rescue from his perilous position was powerful and fought valiantly; but he was finally forced through a window into the hospital, where several policemen took up the struggle and subdued him. The maniac was Robert Hindman, who had been admitted to the hospital a week ago to be prepared for an operation for the removal of a swelling in the ear. He showed no signs of mental disturbance until Saturday night, when he suddenly became maniacal. Sometime after midnight he escaped from his room to the narrow ledge, carrying with him a heavy pitcher with which he threatened the nurses and policemen, who appeared at the window to induce him to return. As it was impossible to get behind the desperado from inside the hospital the fire department was at last appealed to. A 76-foot extension ladder was cautiously raised and in the dark Hindman's attention was not attracted by it. Captain Clark refused to assign any of his men to so dangerous and unusual a task, and went up himself, followed by Firemen Jeremiah Scanlon and Henry W. Kimley. Hindman had just thrown the pitcher through the window where the policemen were holding his attention, when Clark crept up behind, seized the man by the throat and choked him, while the firemen grasped his legs. Though taken by surprise, Hindman fought back desperately. He was cut by broken glass when his captors finally dragged him to the window and thrust him through.

A Great Satisfaction.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown, of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insupportable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by E. S. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Robinson's statement: Alexandria, Va., April 14, 1904. We lived with our family of eight children for seven years at 911 Wolfe Street. After the men put down a lot of pipe in the ground the water came up in the yard and the children and we had no sickness while we drank it. We declare we found it good and healthy and the neighbors remarked that our children looked remarkably ruddy. We are now applicants to get back so as to have the benefits of the water. W. B.
